Part 1, Section I: Chart of Accounts

The Chart of Accounts provides the basic structure for the U.S. Standard General Ledger (USSGL). It incorporates both proprietary and budgetary accounts. The proprietary and budgetary sets of general ledger accounts are self-balancing (total debits equal total credits). It is important to note that central agency reporting requires a lower level of detail than the 6-digit USSGL account numbers provided. Therefore, the USSGL Board developed attributes containing various domain values that, when added to a basic 6-digit USSGL account, provide the appropriate level of detail needed for central agency reporting and, in effect, create new USSGL accounts. See Section IV for attribute definitions and domain values. It is this lower level of detail, the basic 6-digit USSGL account plus applicable attribute domain values, that agencies must capture at the transaction level to (1) comply with USSGL policy, and (2) achieve the desired result for proper reporting.

The basic 6-digit USSGL accounts are classified as follows:

100000 Assets

200000 Liabilities

300000 Net Position

400000 Budgetary

500000 Revenue and Other Financing Sources

600000 Expenses

700000 Gains/Losses/Miscellaneous Items

800000 Memorandum

Agencies may expand this numbering system to as many digits as necessary to accommodate agency-specific requirements. However, subsidiary accounts must summarize or “roll up” to the 6-digit USSGL accounts plus any related attributes.

In February 1999, the USSGL Board voted to delete summary accounts. However, agencies may summarize accounts as they find useful. Section headings replace many of the deleted summary accounts to maintain the integrity of the account structure.

Part 1, Section II: Accounts and Definitions

The account descriptions provide basic information about each USSGL account, including:

Account Title

Account Number

Normal Balance of the Account (Debit or Credit)

Account Definition

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Fund Balance With Treasury

Account Number: 101000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the aggregate amount of funds on deposit with the Department of the Treasury, excluding seized cash deposited. Fund Balance With Treasury (FBWT) is increased by (1) receiving appropriations, reappropriations, continuing resolutions, appropriation restorations, and allocations; and (2) receiving transfers and reimbursements from other federal entities. It also is increased by amounts borrowed from the Bureau of the Fiscal Service, the Federal Financing Bank, or other federal entities, and amounts collected and credited to appropriation or fund accounts. FBWT is reduced by (1) disbursements made to pay liabilities or to purchase assets, goods, and services; (2) investments in U.S. securities (securities issued by Fiscal Service or other federal entities); (3) cancellation of expired appropriations; (4) transfers and reimbursements to other federal entities or non-federal entities or to the General Fund of the U.S. Government; and (5) sequestration or rescission of appropriations. (See USSGL account 153200, "Seized Cash Deposited.") This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Fund Balance With Treasury While Awaiting a Warrant or Mandated Non-Expenditure Transfer

Account Number: 109000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount equal to the funding provided under a continuing resolution and apportioned in accordance with Office of Management and Budget's automatic apportionment bulletin. Pursuant to a continuing resolution or enacted annual or supplemental appropriation act, the account may be used while awaiting a warrant to be issued, or while awaiting a mandated non-expenditure transfer (NET) to be processed, for an appropriation by the Department of the Treasury's Bureau of the Fiscal Service. When using this account to record a liability pending a mandated NET, it shall only be used in the giving Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol. This account should not be used for permissive NETs. The balance in this account will adjust to zero when the Department of the Treasury's Bureau of the Fiscal Service issues a warrant or a mandated transfer and must adjust to zero by year-end. This account does not close at year-end.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: General Fund of the U.S. Government's Operating Cash

Account Number: 110100

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of cash available for the U.S. Treasury to meet its daily operations. This account includes balances from tax collections, other revenue, federal debt receipts, and other various receipts net of cash outflows for budget outlays and other payments. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Restricted Operating Cash

Account Number: 110300

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of cash that is restricted due to the imposition on cash deposits by law, regulation, or agreement. Restricted cash mainly consists of the Supplementary Financial Program cash account. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only.

Account Title: Checks Outstanding

Account Number: 110900

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of checks issued by U.S. Disbursing Officers (for example includes Treasury Disbursing Officers and Non-Treasury Disbursing Officers) that have not been matched against a payment record in the Treasury Check Information System. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Undeposited Collections

Account Number: 111000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of collections on hand/in transit for deposit, collections deposited but not confirmed, and deposits confirmed but not yet recorded in a Treasury Account Symbol in CARS. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Imprest Funds

Account Number: 112000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of cash authorized to be held by federal entity cashiers at personal risk. This account does not close at year-end.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: U.S. Debit Card Funds

Account Number: 112500

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of cash authorized to be placed on U.S. Federal Government debit cards by federal entities and held at personal risk by a federal entity representative. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Number: 123000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of U.S. dollar equivalent of foreign government currency cash held or deposited in accounts outside of the U.S. Treasury, in non-Treasury General Accounts (non-TGAs) that the Office of Management and Budget has determined will be included in the Budget of the United States Government. For Expenditure Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbols, this amount represents the portion of unexpended balances that is held outside of Treasury. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Foreign Currency Held Outside Of Treasury - Non-Budgetary

Account Number: 123500

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: The U.S. dollar equivalent of unrestricted foreign government currency that is also deposited in accounts outside of the U.S. Treasury in non-Treasury General Accounts (non-TGAs), and that are not included in the Budget of the United States Government. This account is for the Department of Defense use only. This account does not close at year end.

Account Title: Central Accounting/Agency Reconciliation Account

Account Number: 125000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the net amount of unreconciled deposit and disbursement differences. The Statement of Differences (reconciliations for deposits) compares monthly totals of federal entity deposits presented or mailed to the bank with total deposits submitted through the banking system via Standard Form (SF) 215: Deposit Ticket/SF 5515: Debit Voucher (Collection Information Repository). The Statement of Differences (reconciliations for disbursements) compares monthly totals of Regional Finance Centers (RFCs) and/or transactions through Intra-governmental Payment and Collection (IPAC) with agency-reported payments and collections. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Accounts Receivable

Account Number: 131000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount due from others when the right to receive funds accrues. This may result from the performance of services, the delivery of goods, or court-ordered assessment. This account does not close at year-end.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Allowance for Loss on Accounts Receivable

Account Number: 131900

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the estimated amount of uncollectible accounts receivable. Increase the account by the amount estimated to be uncollectible each accounting period. Decrease the account by the actual amount subsequently written off. The amount should consider outstanding advances. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Funded Employment Benefit Contributions Receivable

Account Number: 132000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount recorded by administering federal entities for funded contributions due from federal employers and/or covered employees for employment related benefits such as retirement, health insurance, life insurance, Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA), and unemployment compensation. This amount excludes Social Security taxes. When the federal paying entity records the actual budgetary obligation, the associated FECA liability and receivable are considered funded. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Unfunded FECA Benefit Contributions Receivable

Account Number: 132100

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount recorded by the Department of Labor for unfunded Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA) contributions due from employers. Until the paying federal entity records the actual budgetary obligation, the associated FECA liability and receivable are considered unfunded. This account does not close at year-end.

Account Title: Taxes Receivable

Account Number: 132500

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of identifiable, measurable, and legally enforceable taxes due from federal entities and non-federal entities. This includes claims to cash or other assets through established assessment processes as defined by Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) No. 7, "Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources." Use this account only in an invested expenditure account where the payable is to a specific federal entity expenditure account.

Account Title: Loan Modification Adjustment Transfer Appropriation

Account Number: 412500

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount appropriated to a financing account from a permanent indefinite appropriation to cover the cost of a modification adjustment transfer. Modification costs are calculated using a current discount rate at which a cohort pays or earns interest. When the cost of a modification is less when calculated at the current discount rate than at the discount rate at which the cohort pays or earns interest, a modification adjustment transfer appropriation is required.

Account Title: Amounts Appropriated From Specific Invested TAFS - Receivable

Account Number: 412600

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record amounts appropriated in an appropriation or authorization act from an invested Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS) to a specific federal entity account. The amounts appropriated to the federal entity will be accomplished via non-expenditure transfer; however, the amounts are reflected in the Budget of the United States Government: Appendix as an appropriation rather than as a transfer. For cash management purposes, the funds remain invested until needed for disbursement; therefore, a receivable is required to reflect the total budget authority. This account does not close at year-end.

Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Allocations of Authority - Anticipated Transfers From Invested Balances - Current-Year

Account Number: 416500

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of current-year budget authority anticipated by a receiving allocation Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS), based on an apportionment request by the receiving TAFS, to be distributed from the parent TAFS via non-expenditure transfer, during the fiscal year. Use this USSGL account in conjunction with USSGL accounts 416600, "Allocations of Realized Authority - To Be Transferred From Invested Balances - Current-Year," and/or 416700, "Allocations of Realized Authority - Transferred From Invested Balances - Current-Year." Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it is acceptable in certain instances for the account to have a credit balance.

Account Title: Allocations of Authority - Anticipated From Invested Balances - Prior Year

Account Number: 416512

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: The amount of prior year budget authority anticipated by a receiving allocation Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS), based on an apportionment request by the receiving TAFS, to be distributed from the parent TAFS via non-expenditure transfer, during the fiscal year. Use this USSGL account in conjunction with USSGL accounts 416612, "Allocations of Realized Authority - To Be Transferred From Invested Balances - Prior Year," and/or 416712, "Allocations of Realized Authority - Transferred From Invested Balances - Prior Year."

Account Title: Allocations of Realized Authority - To Be Transferred From Invested Balances - Current-Year

Account Number: 416600

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of undistributed funds of current-year budget authority to be allocated between two Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbols (TAFS) where the parent TAFS maintains invested balances. The parent TAFS would record a normal credit to this account, and the receiving TAFS would record a normal debit to this account. For cash management purposes, the funds remain invested until needed for disbursement. This USSGL account is to be recorded mainly by trust funds and special funds, which typically have investment authority. (This occurs before the request for a Standard Form (SF) 1511: Nonexpenditure Transfer Authorization and is only permissible under specific circumstances). Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it is acceptable for this account to have a credit balance. This account does not close at year-end.

This USSGL account is on the USSGL crosswalk for the Statement of Changes in Net Position, but it is not included on the USSGL crosswalk for the Statement of Custodial Activity nor on a custodial footnote.

Account Title: Authority Transfer Control In

Account Number: 577700

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record an offset for the monitoring of the movement of Fund Balance with Treasury activity to another Treasury account symbol. This account is for the General Fund of U.S. Government use only.

Account Title: Authority Transfer Control Out

Account Number: 577800

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record an offset for the monitoring of the movement of Fund Balance with Treasury or activity to another Treasury account symbol. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Imputed Financing Sources

Account Number: 578000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of financing sources recorded by the receiving federal entity to cover imputed costs. The balance in this account must equal the balance in USSGL account 673000, "Imputed Costs."

Account Title: Other Financing Sources

Account Number: 579000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record financing sources (as opposed to revenues earned for provision of goods and services) not provided for in other accounts. Although the normal balance for this account is credit, it is acceptable in certain instances for this account to have a debit balance.

Account Title: Other Non-Budgetary Financing Sources for Debt
Accruals/Amortization

Account Number: 579001

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is for Treasury's Bureau of the Fiscal Service use, to record accruals and amortization related to debt that have not yet been outlaid. Although the normal balance for this account is credit, it is acceptable in certain instances for this account to have a debit balance.

Account Title: Other General Fund Financing Sources

Account Number: 579010

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record amounts that are authorized by law to be financed by the General Fund of the U.S. Government. This account is for the General Fund of the U.S. Government use only. Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it is acceptable in certain instances for this account to have a credit balance.

Account Title: Adjustment to Financing Sources - Credit Reform

Account Number: 579100

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of adjustment to financing sources for a downward reestimate of subsidy expense, negative subsidy, or for modification adjustment transfer (MAT). Record as a debit in the credit reform program account to offset the negative (credit) subsidy expense or gain. Record as a credit in the credit reform financing account to offset the debit to the loan guarantee liability or direct loan allowance for subsidy.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Financing Sources To Be Transferred Out - Contingent Liability

Account Number: 579200

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of future financing sources that will be transferred out as a capital transfer to a General Fund Receipt Account. This account should be recorded as a debit when a contingent liability is recorded. A contingent liability related to a capital transfer should not be associated with a cost but, instead, should be associated with a future non-expenditure capital transfer to a General Fund Receipt Account. Transactions using this account will not have a budgetary impact.

Account Title: Seigniorage

Account Number: 579500

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: The amount of increase in the net position of the U.S. Federal Government for the face value of newly minted coins less the cost of production, which includes the cost of metal, manufacturing, and transportation. Seigniorage results from the sovereign power of the U.S. Federal Government to directly create money and, although it is not an inflow of resources from the public, it does increase the U.S. Federal Government's net position in the same manner as an inflow of resources. It is not demanded, earned, or donated; therefore, it is recognized as a financing source rather than revenue. An example is coins delivered to a Federal Reserve Bank in return for deposits. This account is used only by the United States Mint.

In the specific instance of employer contributions to the Thrift Savings Plan, record in USSGL account 610000 with Federal/Non-Federal Code attribute domain value "N." For "administering" activities, record the amount of expense incurred for benefit payments to non-federal entities using Federal/Non-Federal Code attribute domain value "N" for reporting. This includes (but is not limited to) costs for retirement, life insurance, health insurance, VSIP, FECA, unemployment, entitlements (as listed in the definition of USSGL account 216000, "Entitlement Benefits Due and Payable"), and insurance guarantees; for example, flood insurance, crop insurance, and deposit insurance.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Cost of Goods Sold

Account Number: 650000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the total cost of inventory sold including raw materials, direct labor, and overhead.

Account Title: Applied Overhead

Account Number: 660000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of overhead cost distributed to work-in-process or construction-in-process.

Account Title: Cost Capitalization Offset

Account Number: 661000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of any costs originally recorded into another expense account that are directly linked to a specific job or a product. These costs are transferred to an "in-progress" asset account such as inventory-work-in-process, construction-in-progress, internal-use software in development, or a completed asset account.

Account Title: Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

Account Number: 671000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record expenses recognized by the process of allocating costs of an asset (tangible or intangible) over the period of time benefited or the asset's useful life.

Account Title: Lessee Lease Amortization

Account Number: 671300

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the expense recognized from the process of allocating costs of a lease asset over the shorter of the lease term or underlying asset's useful life.

Account Title: Bad Debt Expense

Account Number: 672000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of bad debt expense related to uncollectible non-credit reform receivables.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Imputed Costs

Account Number: 673000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of costs incurred by a federal entity for goods and services provided and paid for in total, or in part, by other federal entities. Business-type activities, all personnel benefits, and all Treasury Judgment Fund settlements are required to be reported. Agencies may elect to recognize imputed costs for other types of inter-entity costs. The balance in this account must equal the balance in USSGL account 578000, "Imputed Financing Sources."

Account Title: Other Expenses Not Requiring Budgetary Resources

Account Number: 679000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the other costs that do not require budgetary resources (such as accounting for the issue of operating materials and supplies when the consumption method is used.) Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it may be acceptable for this account to have a credit balance when it relates to refund receivables from certain vendor/benefits overpayments.

Account Title: Accrued Expenses

Account Number: 679300

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account will be used to record expenses for accruals where there is not an underlying legally binding obligation that would require a budgetary entry. Or this account can be used in a situation where a proprietary accrual entry is deemed necessary, but the goods or services have not been received. Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it is acceptable for this account to have a credit balance.

Account Title: Contra Expense-Non-Fiduciary Deposit Fund Intra-governmental Administrative Fees

Account Number: 679500

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount that offsets intra-governmental administrative fees paid by nonfiduciary deposit funds, in compliance with SFFAS 7, paragraph 239.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Future Funded Expenses

Account Number: 680000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of accrued expenses that are required to be funded from future-year appropriations. Examples include, but are not limited to, accrued annual leave expense and upward subsidy reestimates for credit reform loan programs. Although the normal balance for this account is debit, it is acceptable in certain instances for this account to have a credit balance.

Account Title: Employer Contributions to Employee Benefit Programs Not Requiring Current-Year Budget Authority (Unobligated)

Account Number: 685000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of benefit expense incurred that does not require current-year budget authority (unobligated) by a federal entity for the employer's portion of contributions to employee benefit programs. This benefit expense includes Federal Employees' Compensation Act and unemployment for federal employees.

Account Title: Non-Production Costs

Account Number: 690000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the costs incurred and recognized that are linked to events other than the production of goods and services. Examples include, but are not limited to, acquisition of general property, plant, and equipment (PP&E); heritage PP&E; stewardship land; reorganization costs; and nonrecurring cleanup costs resulting from facility abandonment that is not accrued. It also includes other post-employment benefits, other than Federal Employees' Compensation Act and unemployment for federal employees reported in USSGL account 640000, "Benefit Expense."

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Lessee Lease Expense

Account Number: 693000

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of expenses incurred from (1) Short-term lease payments paid by a lessee to a lessor based on the provisions of the lease contract; (2) Intragovernmental lease expenses paid by a lessee to a lessor, including lease-related operating costs (maintenance, utilities, taxes, etc.) based on the provisions of the lease agreement; and (3) Variable payments based on future performance of the lessee or usage of the underlying asset in leases other than short-term, intragovernmental, and lease contracts that transfer ownership. For certain variable payments included in the lessee lease liability rather than expense, see SFFAS 54, Pars. 41. (Note: lease-related operating costs (maintenance, utilities, taxes, etc.) NOT paid to a lessor should be included in SGL 610000 rather than 693000.)

Account Title: Gains on Disposition of Assets - Other

Account Number: 711000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the gain on the disposition (such as sale, exchange, disposal, or retirement) of assets not associated with investments or borrowings/loans.

Account Title: Gains on Disposition of Investments

Account Number: 711100

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: The gain on the disposition (such as sale, exchange, disposal, or retirement) of investments.

Account Title: Gains on Disposition of Borrowings

Account Number: 711200

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of gain on early repayment of outstanding borrowings.

Account Title: Gains on Changes in Long-Term Assumptions - From Experience

Account Number: 717100

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the gain on the change in long-term assumptions from experience used to estimate federal employee pension, other retirement benefit and other postemployment benefit liabilities, including veteran's compensation. This account excludes amounts related to Federal Employees Compensation Act program.

U.S. Standard General Ledger
Accounts and Definitions

Account Title: Losses on Changes in Long-Term Assumptions - From Experience

Account Number: 717200

Normal Balance: Debit

Definition: This account is used to record the loss on the change in long-term assumptions from experience used to estimate federal employee pension, other retirement benefit and other postemployment benefit liabilities, including veteran's compensation. This account excludes amounts related to Federal Employees Compensation Act program.

Account Title: Unrealized Gains

Account Number: 718000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the amount of unrealized gains that include but are not limited to: unrealized holding gains on available for sale securities in accordance with Financial Accounting Standard (FAS) 115, unrealized gains on investments of defined benefit pension plans under FAS 35, deferred gains on qualified hedges under FAS 133, and qualified foreign currency translation adjustments under FAS 52.

Account Title: Unrealized Gain - Exchange Stabilization Fund (ESF)

Account Number: 718100

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the accumulated unrealized gain, due to exchange rates, on foreign currency investments and foreign denominated assets in the Exchange Stabilization Fund. Unrealized gains are due to adjustments for the market value of assets. Although the normal balance for this account is credit, it is acceptable in certain instances for this account to have a debit balance. This USSGL account is to be used only by the Department of the Treasury.

Account Title: Other Gains

Account Number: 719000

Normal Balance: Credit

Definition: This account is used to record the gain on assets resulting from events other than disposition. This excludes amounts related to the gain on the change in long-term assumptions from experience and gain on the change in long-term assumptions for federal employee pension, other retirement benefit and other postemployment benefit liabilities, including veteran's compensation. This account includes amounts related to Federal Employees Compensation Act (FECA) program.

Part 1, Section III: Account Transactions

This section provides accounting transactions for events occurring throughout the federal government. The transactions illustrate both proprietary and budgetary entries for each accounting event. Transactions are grouped under the following categories:

|                  |  |
|------------------|--|
| A 100-799 | Funding Sources  |
| B 100-699 | Disbursements and Payables   |
| C 100-799 | Collections and Receivables  |
| D 100-799 | Adjustments/Write-offs/Reclassifications                                     |
| E 100-799 | Accruals/Non-Budgetary Transfers Other Than Disbursementsand Collections |
| F 100-499 | Year-end   |
| G 100-299 | Memorandum Entries   |
| H 100-799 | Other Specialized Transaction Entries  |

The above categories provide a basic framework for organizing the transactions. Also included, as a quick reference, is a listing of transaction descriptions. These accounting transactions document basic standard posting logic for financial events across the federal government.

The following notes explain conventions to follow when using the USSGL and the limitations of this compilation of USSGL transactions:

- There are valid accounting events/postings not yet documented. Agencies may engage in financial activity that the USSGL Board has not yet addressed. If so, submit an issue to the USSGL Board through the agency's USSGL representative. To illustrate the issue, document accounting events specific to the activity in a simple accounting scenario. Include references to specific legislation, accounting standards, or central agency requirements that make the activity unique from those currently documented. This documentation may be useful for explaining variances from the USSGL standard to auditors.
- For deposit funds, there are valid accounting postings not yet documented. When recording any transaction in a deposit fund, agencies should not record (a) budgetary entries or (b) entries that result in net revenues, expenses, gains, or losses in nonfiduciary deposit funds. Examples of many transactions commonly used in non-fiduciary deposit funds are provided in the USSGL

- For nonexpenditure transfers of budget authority between Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbols (TAFS), the "Transfer From" entity will determine the source of funds being transferred and record a proprietary USSGL account that designates the funding as being derived from either:
  - Unexpended appropriations from general fund resources not earmarked by law for a specific purpose—USSGL account 310300, "Unexpended Appropriations—Transfers-Out," or
  - Financing sources that impact cumulative results of operations—USSGL account 576500, "Nonexpenditure Financing Sources—Transfers-Out."

The "Transfer To" entity must use a proprietary USSGL account that corresponds to the proprietary USSGL account used by the "Transfer From" entity. USSGL account 310200, "Unexpended Appropriations—Transfers-In" corresponds to USSGL account 310300. USSGL account 575500, "Nonexpenditure Financing Sources—Transfers-In" corresponds to USSGL account 576500. Failure of both entities to record the matching proprietary USSGL account category (310200/310300 or 575500/576500) will result in agency-wide and/or government-wide elimination discrepancies.

There may be mixed funding in a single TAFS. The net position of a TAFS may be a mix of:

- Unexpended appropriations derived from general fund resources not earmarked by law for a specific purpose, and
- Financing sources, such as Economy Act revenue, that impact cumulative results of operations.

To facilitate reconciliation of interagency expenses and revenues, do not post cost directly to "in-process type" asset accounts. Agencies must first record cost, such as direct labor (payroll and benefits) and direct materials that do not meet agency established capitalization thresholds, in the appropriate USSGL account 600000 series expense account. Use USSGL account 661000, "Cost Capitalization Offset" to apply the cost to the desired "in-process type" asset account. Do not record amounts applied to asset accounts under this method to USSGL account 88XXXX series accounts.

The transactions illustrate USSGL accounts without applicable attribute values. Therefore, a single transaction listed here may translate to several similar transactions in the agency's accounting system depending on how many combinations of USSGL accounts and attribute values are valid to record the agency's activities. Agencies must post transactions using the 6-digit USSGL account plus valid attribute values to fully comply with implementation of the USSGL at the transaction level and to facilitate necessary central agency reporting. Additionally, since the 6-digit base account combined with valid attributes is itself a USSGL account, agencies must post debit and credit entries to reclassify balances even when the 6-digit base account is the same.

Transactions affecting budgetary status may contain debit or credit postings to multiple USSGL status accounts that may be valid for a particular transaction. Choose a USSGL account appropriate to the status of authority in the affected TAFS and the accounting event recorded.

All transactions apply to activity with federal and non-federal entities unless limited by account definition or otherwise noted in the transaction description.

A USSGL transaction crosswalk can be obtained on the TFM website.

The transaction reference provides an example of where this transaction appears. It may not provide all possible USSGL implementation guidance that contains this transaction.

A189 To record a temporary reduction of new budgetary resources and fund balance in a trust or special fund expenditure account that was funded by an unavailable receipt account.

Comment: Post an increase in fund balance in the associated unavailable receipt account. Unlike reductions in available special and trust funds, there is no automatic appropriation of this authority in the following year. Treasury processes a warrant reducing fund balance in the expenditure account and increasing fund balance in the associated unavailable receipt account. Also post USSGL TC-A185 in the unavailable special or trust fund receipt account. Credit USSGL account 299100 if fund withdrawal does not occur simultaneously. For withdrawal of funds, see USSGL TC-A141. While it is acceptable to debit USSGL accounts 461000 and 462000 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in either of these accounts to be a debit.

A502 To record the actual federal fund collection resulting from an expenditure transfer from a trust fund, that was previously established as a receivable.

Comment: In exceptional cases, this transaction may be recorded for a trust fund collection resulting from an expenditure transfer from a federal fund account. While it is acceptable to credit USSGL account 422500 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in USSGL account 422500 to have a credit balance. USSGL account 425512 is restricted and represents adjustments to unobligated balances start of year.

B102 To record payment of payroll.

Comment: For amounts paid by a direct appropriation, also post USSGL TC B234. Due to reconciliation of interagency expenses and revenues, agencies must first record all direct costs to the USSGL account 600000 series and then offset those amounts using USSGL account 661000 (see USSGL TC D514), when the costs are capitalized to the appropriate asset account. Note: Agency systems may accumulate payroll in USSGL account 610000 during the year and distribute those costs to the various accounts at year-end. Also, for employment benefits such as pension, health, and life insurance, see USSGL TCs B604, E104, and E106. While it is acceptable to debit USSGL accounts 461000 and 462000 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in either of these accounts to be a debit.

Account Transactions

B121 To record principal repayments at par value to the Bureau of the Fiscal Service and the Federal Financing Bank that were not previously anticipated. For example, this transaction includes repayments of principal, repayments due to modifications of credit reform loans, and repayments of capitalized loan interest from non-credit reform loans.

Comment: Also post USSGL TC-B135 if a gain results from an early repayment for non-credit reform loans. Also post USSGL TC-B137 if a loss results from an early repayment for non-credit reform loans. See USSGL TC-B131 for principal repayments with a gain or loss as a result of FFB early repayments, or modifications of credit reform loans. If posting TC-B404, record a debit to USSGL account 461000. While it is acceptable to debit USSGL accounts 461000 and 462000 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in either of these accounts to a debit.

B400 - B599 Disbursements and Payables - Payables/Accrued Liabilities

B402 To record the delivery of goods or services and to accrue a liability.

Comment: If funded by a direct appropriation, also post USSGL TC-B134. Assume a title has been passed when the goods are received. Also post USSGL TCs G120, G122, and G124 to track purchases. For payroll and benefits, see USSGL TC-E102. For "in-process type" accounts and assisted acquisition situations, see USSGL TC-D514. Due to the reconciliation of interagency expenses and revenues, agencies first must record all direct costs to a USSGL account 600000 expense series account and then offset those amounts using USSGL account 661000 when the costs are capitalized to the appropriate asset account. For other payroll related transactions, see USSGL TCs-E104 through E117. Record USSGL account 219000 for grants payable.

C109 To record the receipt of previously anticipated collections.

Comment: See USSGL TC-C108 for unidentified collections. Also post USSGL TC-A123 if authority was previously anticipated. See USSGL TCs-A710, A712, A714, and C186 for reimbursable agreement transactions. See USSGL TC-C156 for the collection of interest receivable from securities held by a nonfiduciary deposit fund. Fiduciary deposit funds would not record a budgetary entry. See TCs C453 and C457 for daily inflation or deflation of Treasury Inflation Protected Securities.

C124 To record the maturity of federal securities acquired at a discount by a Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS) other than a nonfiduciary deposit fund.

Comment: Prior to maturity, an entry is made to complete the amortization of a discount. The budgetary entry shows the purchase discount is realized as a budgetary resource when the security matures. Special and trust funds use USSGL account 411400, if budgetary resources were previously anticipated, revolving funds credit USSGL account 407000 and special and trust funds credit USSGL account 412000. Also post USSGL TC-A123 if authority was previously anticipated. Fiduciary deposit funds would not record the budgetary entry. See USSGL TC A195, TC C109, or TC C140 to record the collection of interest received on the maturity. See USSGL TC C128 to record the maturity of a U.S. Treasury Zero Coupon Bond issued by the Bureau of the Fiscal Service. ## U.S. Standard General Ledger

Account Transactions

C420 To record accrued revenue or other financing sources without budgetary impact.

Comment: Receivables from non-federal sources are not budgetary resources until collected. This transaction should be used if you have a receivable recorded from a transaction with nonfiduciary deposit funds. For receivables reported for non-federal custodial collections, also post USSGL TC C404. For federal and non-federal receivables reported in a General Fund Receipt Account, also post USSGL TC C405. See USSGL TC F124 for the preclosing adjusting entry recorded at year-end.

Reference: Per OMB Circular No. A-11, the Budget totals exclude amounts from deposit fund transactions because the funds are not owned by the Government. Therefore, the budget records transactions between deposit funds and budgetary accounts as transactions with public. Other USSGL Guidance: Accounting and Reporting Exchange Stabilization Fund

Account Transactions

C430 To record an old motor vehicle that was traded in for a new motor vehicle using the direct method.

Comment: This entry is to show a trade-in only. An entry for indirect cost is not included. This is the way the Department of Defense accounts for repairable items involving trade-ins. Accounts receivable represents the cash amount the vehicle procurer will receive from the customer. Inventory held for repair represents the value of an asset after it is repaired (value of a similar new asset). Other financing source represents fair market value of the old vehicle. Other financing source was used instead of revenue from goods sold due to a trade-in, which is not a budgetary resource. Inventory allowance represents the estimated repair cost of the damaged vehicle. While it is acceptable to credit USSGL account 422100 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in USSGL account 422100 to be a credit.

C606 To record the sale of federal securities purchased at a discount and sold at a premium by a Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS) other than a nonfiduciary deposit fund. The sale results in a gain.

Comment: Prior to the sale, an entry is made to amortize the discount to the point of sale. The budgetary entry is recorded for the purchase discount plus the premium on the sale. Special and trust funds use USSGL account 411400 if budgetary resources were previously anticipated in USSGL account 412000. Revolving funds use USSGL account 427300 if budgetary resources were previously anticipated in USSGL account 407000. Also post USSGL TC-A123 if authority was previously anticipated. Fiduciary deposit funds would not record the budgetary entry. See USSGL TC A195, TC C109 or TC C140 to record the collection of interest received on the sale. See USSGL TC C607 for the sale of securities acquired at a discount by nonfiduciary deposit fund that result in a gain.

Account Transactions

C608 To record the sale of federal securities purchased at a discount and sold at a discount by a Treasury Appropriation Fund Symbol (TAFS) other than a nonfiduciary deposit fund. The sale may result in a gain or a loss.

Comment: Prior to the sale, an entry is made to amortize the discount to the point of sale. The budgetary entry is recorded for the purchase discount less the discount on the sale. If the discount on the sale is greater than the purchase discount, the budgetary entry will be reversed. Special and trust funds use USSGL account 411400 if budgetary resources were previously anticipated in USSGL account 412000. Revolving funds use USSGL account 427300 if budgetary resources were previously anticipated in USSGL account 407000. Reverse USSGL TC A123 if authority was previously anticipated. Fiduciary deposit funds would not record the budgetary entry. See USSGL TC A195, TC C109 or TC C140 to record the collection of interest received on the sale. See USSGL TC C618 to record the sale prior to maturity of investments in U.S. Treasury Zero Coupon Bonds. See USSGL TC C611 or TC C621 for the sale of securities purchased at a discount and sold at a gain or loss by a nonfiduciary deposit fund.

C610 To record the sale or disposition of personal property collected for replacement property.

Comment: Sales proceeds on disposed personal property collected for a replacement property will have no budgetary entry until the obligation is subsequently incurred for the replacement property. In most cases, the proceeds will only be available for acquisition of the replacement property in the fiscal year that the old property was sold, then for 1 fiscal year thereafter. This entry may not be applicable to some agencies that have specific language in their legislation that allows them to keep the proceeds beyond 2 years.

Account Transactions

D134 To record the delivery of goods and services ordered in a prior year and accrue a liability. Expended authority is less than the original obligation and the authority is not expired.

Comment: The offset to downward adjustments to undelivered orders is anticipated recoveries. If such a transaction causes an abnormal credit balance, the Office of Management and Budget's approval for use of resources is required. When anticipated accounts are not used, credit USSGL account 445000 or credit USSGL account 462000 if funds are exempt from apportionment. Also post USSGL TC-B134 if funded by a direct appropriation. Also post USSGL TC-A123 if recoveries were previously anticipated. Also post USSGL TC-D103 if the downward adjustment is associated with reimbursable obligations in an expired expenditure account. The payroll and related benefit liabilities in this transaction are only for work-in-process. For other payroll-related transactions, see USSGL TCs E104 through E117. Also post USSGL TCs G120, G122, and G124 to track purchases.

D514 To record the reclassification of expenses to asset accounts.

Comment: Agencies must first record all direct costs to the USSGL account 600000, "Expenses" series. When these costs are subsequently capitalized to the appropriate "in process" asset or "finished product" asset account, or the costs result in the recording of an asset from an Assisted Acquisition with another federal entity, these amounts should then be offset by recording SGL 661000, "Cost Capitalization Offset." This process allows agencies to accumulate their cost information and facilitates the proper elimination of interagency expenses/revenues.

Account Transactions

D622 To record the amount of indefinite appropriation derived from the General Fund of the U.S. Government that is withdrawn due to recoveries of prior-year obligations. Also use to return any unused resources provided to cover upward adjustments.

Comment: Credit USSGL account 299100 if fund withdrawal does not occur simultaneously. Refer to Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-11 for the definition of reductions. Reductions include rescissions, across-the-board reductions, and sequestrations. Special and trust funds receiving appropriations from the General Fund of the U.S. Government and/or transfers of unexpended appropriations may record USSGL accounts in the 310000 series. While it is acceptable to debit USSGL account 462000 in this situation, it is never acceptable for the balance in USSGL account 462000 to be a debit.

Treasury Financial Manual

Part 1, Section IV: USSGL Account Attributes

To meet external reporting requirements, agencies need data at a level below the 6-digit USSGL account. Agencies' systems must capture this information at the transaction level by recording transactions using USSGL 6-digit accounts plus attributes. This section provides an Attribute Definition Report and an Attribute Table for both proprietary and budgetary USSGL accounts and attributes reported to the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS).

The Attribute Definition report provides definitions and related information for all attributes associated with each entry. Agencies report on those attributes described in the detailed financial information entity. The Attribute Table shows USSGL accounts, account titles, and normal balance indicators for USSGL accounts that agencies use for GTAS reporting. Also, the tables show related attributes agencies must provide for each USSGL account reported in GTAS.

The USSGL proprietary account data in the Attribute Table shows the related attribute information captured at the transaction level that support production of the Financial Report of the United States Government. The USSGL crosswalks for the financial statements reference these attributes as a requirement for proper reporting on the particular financial statement line items.

Attributes are like adjectives that further describe a USSGL account in order to meet a specific reporting requirement. Domain values are all of the possible valid choices within an attribute. For example, if there is a red chair and a blue chair in a room, then you only need one attribute to describe them: color. The valid domain values within the attribute "color" would be "red" or "blue." If you wanted the red chair, there would be no need to use additional adjectives such as weight, height, or size to describe it. This is because, in this example, color is enough to uniquely identify the chair. Therefore, only those attributes and those domain values that are necessary to uniquely identify the reporting requirement appear on the crosswalks.

Note:

Some USSGL accounts do not have certain attributes in this document for reporting purposes, but do require these attributes for accounting purposes. An example is downward adjustments of prior -year obligations. For reporting purposes, the following USSGL Accounts do not need the reimbursable flag attribute with the domain values of direct and reimbursable: USSGL accounts 487100, "Downward Adjustments of Prior-Year Unpaid Undelivered Orders—Obligations, Recoveries," 487200, "Downward Adjustments of Prior-Year Prepaid/Advanced Undelivered Orders—Obligations, Refunds Collected," 497100, "Downward Adjustments of Prior-Year Unpaid Delivered Orders—Obligations, Recoveries," and 497200, "Downward Adjustments of Prior-Year Paid Delivered Orders—Obligations, Refunds Collected." However, at year-end these accounts close to the following USSGL accounts which require the reimbursable flag attribute for reporting: USSGL accounts 480100, "Undelivered Orders—Obligations, Unpaid," 480200, "Undelivered Orders—Obligations, Prepaid/Advanced," 490100, "Delivered Orders—Obligations, Unpaid," and 490200, "Delivered Orders—Obligations, Paid." Therefore, an agency must similarly identify the adjustment accounts to close these accounts properly.
